Menard on racing at Charlotte Motor Speedway:

“It’s always nice this time of year when we get to be home for a couple of weeks. This weekend we are at Charlotte and next weekend we go up the road to Martinsville. I know it’s great for all the crew guys because they get to spend some extra time at home with their friends and family, and next Saturday we get to race in front of them, which always makes the race a little more special to the guys.

“Last weekend at Fontana, I thought we were going to have a much better car than we showed in the race. We had a couple of really good practices, but when the sun came out, it really changed the setup of our car. This Saturday we race at night, which is typically gives you a little more grip and makes the cars really fun to drive. I’m looking forward to being back in the No. 98 Johns Manville / Menards Ford Fusion on Saturday night.”

Crew Chief Larry Carter on racing at Charlotte Motor Speedway:

“I think the entire No. 98 Johns Manville / Menards team is looking forward to being home this weekend and racing in front of their friends and family. This is always an exciting race and I think we will unload a pretty strong Ford Fusion for Saturday night. We’ve been pretty strong this season at the intermediates and I don’t expect anything different this weekend. If we can get a little luck in qualifying and in the race, I think we’ll have a pretty solid night on Saturday.”
